Superstreet is a Restricted Crossing U-Turn intersection (FHWA)

- Works like a stretched out, signalized roundabout
- Reduces signal phasing from 4 to 3 phases. U-turns are signalized and synchronized.
- Will be clearly signed and striped
- Effective in improving travel time and reducing delays
- Increases safety by reducing conflict points at major crossovers
Floresta Drive Intersection

Signal Phase 1: Crosstown Parkway Left-turn, Floresta Right Turns
Floresta Drive Intersection

Signal Phase 2: Floresta Right and U-turns, Pedestrians Cross Crosstown Parkway
Signal Phase 3: Thru-Movement of Crosstown Parkway, Pedestrians Cross Floresta Dr
Safety Benefits of Superstreet

- Conflict Points reduced from 32 to 14 (56% reduction) compared to traditional 4-leg intersection
  - Fewer crashes
  - Less severe crashes

- Pedestrian safety
  - Large median refuge
  - Conflict between pedestrians and left-turning vehicles on Crosstown Parkway eliminated
    - Conflict points reduced from 24 to 8 (67% reduction)

- Floresta Drive remains a neighborhood street.

- Emergency vehicles traverse mountable curb in median.
Safety Benefits of Superstreet

Traditional Intersection: 32 conflicts

Superstreet Intersection: 14 conflicts
